Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krasuski et al. (US 6,226,959) in view of Ladds et al. (4,155,643) and Sides II (US 4,155,643).

Krasuski et al. (US 6,226,959) discloses a desktop mail folding/inserting machine (Fig. 1), with feet (at bottom of Fig. 1), and an envelope output (3).

Krasuski et al. (US 6,226,959) lacks a means of receiving the output envelopes before they land on the floor and making the receiving means by moulding plastic in one piece.

Ladds et al. (4,155,643) discloses a means of receiving the output envelopes having a support plate (52), front wall (38), lateral walls (48 and 50), rear walls (32 and or 56), two hollows and openings (right of 40 and left of 38), hooking means (34 and 36) and rounded lateral wall corners (Fig. 4).

Ladds et al. (4,155,643) lacks making the receiving means by moulding plastic in one piece.

Sides II (US 4,155,643) discloses that moulding receiving means out of plastic in one piece is common practice by arguing that instead the specific disclosed configuration would be moulded in two pieces (column 10, lines 10 and 11).

The limitation of making the device of transparent material is considered a design choice that does not contribute to the operation of the device nor does it further limit the first claim toward patentability.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of the invention to combine the disclosures of Krasuski et al. (US 6,226,959), Ladds et al. (4,155,643) and Sides II (US 4,155,643) in order to provide an inexpensive means of catching envelopes as they are output from a mail producing apparatus.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2 and 4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: A mail item receiving device having all of the limitations of claim 1 in combination with hooking means to cooperate with the feet of the machine or reinforcing ribs is not found nor is sufficient motivation found to make the combination in the art of record.

Conclusion

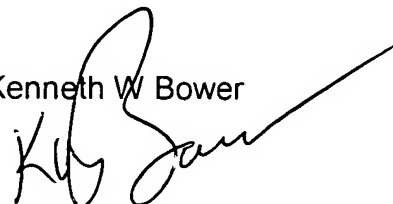

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
